

Rural Generalist Medicine Prevocational Certification checklist

We coordinate a prevocational training program that is designed to ensure access to a broad range of education and experience during prevocational training to prepare trainees for progressing to supervised rural practice or advanced skills training (AST). Trainees are assessed against prevocational certification requirements, by completing the prevocational training program, at the end of postgraduate year 2 (PGY2). The table below provides a summary of requirements.

| Assessment item | Evidence required | Responsible party | ✓ |
|--|---|--|---|
| General Registration with the Medical Board of Australia | Evidence of registration with the Medical Board of Australia. | QRGP team to source from Medical Board of Australia website. | |
| Satisfactory completion of all AMC prevocational training requirements (refer to the QRGP prevocational training program) as well as terms in rural placement, emergency medicine, paediatrics*, anaesthetics* and obstetrics & gynaecology* * 10 weeks preferred; 5 weeks accepted | Provision of all PGY1 and 2 term reports via email (scanned copy) or hard copy - to be reviewed by Rural Generalist Training Advisor (RGTA). | Trainee to provide to QRGP team at end of each term via: rural_generalist@health.qld.gov.au | |

| Assessment of personal and professional readiness (including clinical confidence and capability; and appropriate advanced skill interest) to commence practice in a rural area | Assessed by RGTA at career planning interviews (PGY1 & 2) and in consultation with Director of Clinical Training (DCT) at trainee's employing hospital. | RGTA. | |

We will not be able to assess your eligibility to attain Rural Generalist Medicine prevocational certification if we don't receive your evidence by the deadline we nominate when we contact you.

You should also ensure you:

- have considered, and sought advice from, your Rural Generalist Training Advisor (RGTA) regarding when to apply for general practice training with the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners (RACGP) or Australian College of Rural and Remote Medicine (ACRRM)
- advise the QRGP team of any change to personal contact details via: rural_generalist@health.qld.gov.au
- contact your RGTA with any concerns with hospital terms or any other issues requiring advice and support
- maintain consistent contact with the QRGP team regarding your career intentions
- consider your preferred AST discipline and ensure you are ready to apply for it by April of PGY2 wanting to commence training in PGY3. The QRGP team will provide more information and reminders closer to the time.
